

The Law Officer Microsite...

Microsites are a great way to create a targeted destination for niche content or product lines for the law enforcement professional. They can serve jointly as an excellent brand marketing tool as well as a lead generation vehicle to drive new customers. The micro site experience can be richer, more inviting, more experiential, and more emotional than can online experiences pasted within the typical data-oriented corporate site.

We'll partner with you to develop a 360-degree, 24/7 online destination that meets your company's goals and needs – and most importantly budget. We can feature original and archived content, unique web features and opt-in newsletters. Microsites are also great for targeting a specific audience with information or brand messaging that will appeal to their demographics and psychographics.

Since not all of our clients will need the functionality listed –and some may need more – the scope and pricing of your Microsite may vary. Whether your campaign needs are simple or comprehensive, Law Officer can assist you in developing a fully integrated online and offline marketing program that drives your business forward. Each microsite includes full site development, editorial support and promotion via the Law Officer home page and site-wide navigation/links, e-mail efforts and more.
